The application has been amended as follows:

In claim 1, line 1, the word "took" has been changed to – tool --.

2. This amendment correct an on obvious typographical and changes "law enforcement took" to "law enforcement tool".

3. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The prior art when taken separately or combined fails to teach and/or show a multifunction law enforcement tool having an elongated member with an orthogonal handle with a spray canister and interchangeably connected glass breaker at the proximal end of the elongated member with the distal end housing a flashlight, stun gun, laser sights and deterrent spray nozzle as per claims 1-4. While claims 8-10 and 12 distinguish over the prior art in reciting a multifunction law enforcement tool having an elongated member with handle housing a deterrent spray canister and interchangeable
